Oklahoma State Coach Impressed

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma State ran through a short football scrimmage Wednesday under the eyes of the coaches and cameras and Coach Floyd Cass continued to be impressed by the efforts.

"I thought we had two good practices today," he said. "Although we filmed some this afternoon, our interest was to find the hitters rather than the mistakes."

Cass said OSU practices would be closed to the public starting Saturday and continuing until the Sept. 20 opener against the Arkansas Razorbacks at Little Rock.

Cutback Has Governors Worried

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—President Nixon's construction cutback plan has the nation's governors worried. But they are stumped by the problem of how, politically, they can attack an inflation-fighting effort.

The governors adjourned their 61st annual conference Wednesday with no discussion of the construction issue in formal session.

There was plenty of corridor talk, but a threatened Democratic move to put the governors on record in opposition to the cutback never materialized.

As originally conceived, the cutback, expected to be announced Friday, was said to involve an immediate 75 per cent reduction in new federal construction. Federally aided projects, the item of primary interest to the states, would be curtailed by the same percentage next April 1.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew gave the conference a preview of the plan at a closed session Tuesday. Some Democrats said that move appeared designed to stifle criticism.

Democratic Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina said Agnew's briefing depicted the projected cut as a step to ease inflation and thus made it difficult, if not impossible, for politicians who have been complaining about prices to dissent.

"It's grossly unfair for people to be complaining and screaming about inflation and then when the President does something to complain about it," said Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, a Democrat.

Republicans were virtually unanimous in saying they would support Nixon although they said they had misgivings about the cutback. Colorado Gov. John A. Love, newly elected chairman of the conference, said construction stoppage "could be distasteful," but added it indicates an appropriate administration move to adjust spending priorities.

One Democrat, Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, said he anticipates that governors will rush to get new federal aid construction under way in time to beat any April 1 cutoff. The Nixon plan would affect road building, federally aided schools and hospitals and other projects.

Scientists Digging a Hole in History Just Off of a Boulevard

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Half a block off busy Wilshire Boulevard scientists are digging a hole into history.

Just behind the Los Angeles County Museum of Art are several fenced-off pools of bubbling tar, welling up from a huge oil dome 150 feet below the surface.

The bones of countless animals—prehistoric saber-tooth cats, giant sloths, dire wolves and at least one human being—were hauled from these tar pits in random excavations half a century ago.

Now a new "dig" has been

Nuclear Blast Is Delayed by Weather

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Unfavorable weather conditions have caused at least a 24-hour delay in Project Rulison, a 40-kiloton underground nuclear blast in western Colorado.

Project officials made the decision Wednesday night after a weather briefing. Forecasts were for bad weather again on Friday and possibly Saturday.

Each day's delay will cost Austral Oil Co. of Houston, Tex., one of the sponsors of the blast, an estimated $31,000.

"The predictions are clearly outside the criteria we have established for ourselves," said Bob Tahlrott, test manager.

Weathermen said there was a strong chance of thundershowers over the test site, near the town of Grand Valley, about the time of the scheduled detonation—5 p.m. EDT Thursday. Indications were, the forecasters said, that there would be thundershowers in the area about the same time on Friday.

Weather conditions halted the explosion 8,500 feet under the earth's crust after extensive legal maneuvers failed to do so.

Justice Thurgood Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court refused Wednesday to overturn lower court decisions that all necessary precautions had been taken and the explosion could proceed.

In Denver, meanwhile, a federal judge denied another injunction request from a conservationist group which contended the blast threatened the safety of Colorado residents and could contaminate ground water and the atmosphere.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which is conducting the blast in cooperation with Austral and CER Geonuclear Corp. of Las Vegas, Nev., has said all possible precautions have been taken for safety of residents in the thinly populated area.

Project Rulison, part of the AEC's Plowshare program to find peaceful uses for atomic energy, is designed to free trapped deposits of natural gas.

started, aimed for the first time at recreating in full detail this part of the world as it existed during the Ice Age, a three-million-year epoch which ended about 10,000 years ago.

The excavation is on a site where the tar, exposed to air and dust, has congealed into a cap strong enough to hold the weight of diggers employed by the County Museum of Natural History.

As they slowly scrape their way down inch by inch, the hardened muck is hauled away in buckets, sifted and washed with solvent. When the solvent drains away, workers find the bones of hundreds of birds and animals that met death in the once-sticky goo.

These fossils are carefully cataloged by numbers showing the exact depth at which they were found. The deeper the workers dig, the farther back into earth's history they go.

In this way Dr. Theodore Downs, chief of earth sciences at the museum, hopes to open a wide window onto the past.

"Earlier excavators apparently were interested primarily in the bones of large animals—the giant California lion, the saber-tooth cat, the giant ground sloth," said Downs.

"This time we are studying everything that comes out of the pit, not only large bones but microfossils, the bones of rats, birds, squirrels, to help us reconstruct the whole ecology of this area at various periods of time."

80 miles northeast of Saigon. The helicopters made it to a Special Forces camp three miles south of the battlefield, but one American was killed and one wounded.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands announced that battlefield deaths dropped slightly on all sides last week as a result of a marked decrease in enemy activity. The commands reported 185 Americans, 354 South Vietnamese and 3,495 enemy killed, compared with 190 Americans, 398 South Vietnamese and 2,724 enemy the week before. Another 1,057 Americans were wounded in action last week.

In action Wednesday night more B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese positions threatening a key provincial capital 80 miles northeast of Saigon Wednesday night.

Field reports said fighting that had raged for four days between Song Be and the Cambodian border had dwindled after battered troops of the South Vietnamese mobile strike force pulled back to regroup.

The B52s dropped 750 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese troop concentrations, base camps, supply depots, staging areas, bunker complexes and gun positions northeast of Song Be.

The strike force troops are reported to have suffered 30 dead, 154 wounded and between 17 and 32 missing in the fighting near Song Be. Five of their American Green Beret leaders also have been wounded.

Only six enemy soldiers have been reported killed so far.

was its secretary general, operating out of China, in 1941, and again in the 1950s. Under Ho's Hanoi regime, Chinh slipped and was demoted for the failure of agriculture in the North. He bounced back, possibly through Peking's then strong influence in Hanoi.

Le Duan, now 62, once was considered pro-Chinese. He seemed to shift in the 1960s, after becoming the party's first secretary. Duan is believed to have a strong machine in the party membership. He was one of Ho's leading commanders in the South, when the Vietnamese were fighting the French. He is an expert on relations with other Communist parties and has traveled both to Moscow and Peking.

Premier Pham Van Dong, now 62, an early Ho associate, is considered pro-Moscow. He began serving Ho's cause in 1925 when he set up the main revolutionary base in South Vietnam. Since partition in 1954, he has been premier and at one time served simultaneously as foreign minister.

Glaph, the defense minister who was architect of the 1954 Dienbienphu victory over the French, is primarily a military man. It is doubtful that he has vaulting political ambitions, but he could have army support in the arena.

Showers Are Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mostly cloudy skies with scattered thundershowers and little change in temperatures are expected in Arkansas through Friday, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today.

Most temperature Wednesday were on the mild side. Considerable cloudiness and showers held afternoon readings mostly in the 80s while Wednesday night the temperatures were mostly in the 60s. The high reading was 87 at Fort Smith and Texarkana.

Arkansas remains under the influence of a moist, southerly flow that continues to bring considerable cloudiness and mild temperatures, as well as scattered thundershowers to much of the area.

Thundershowers were fairly general across the state Wednesday and Wednesday night, with some places getting some heavy shower activity.

Lows tonight are expected to be in the mid 60s to low 70s. Overnight lows ranged from 59 at Fayetteville to 72 at Jonesboro and Memphis.

Rainfall included .77 inches at Fayetteville, .61 at Harrison, .41 at Fort Smith, .38 at Jonesboro, .29 at Little Rock and .28 at Pine Bluff.

No Change in the Urban Bureaucrats

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon team has yet to make major changes in the government's three largest urban affairs bureaucracies. Presidential appointees say programs of the Johnson administration remain fundamentally unchanged.

Nixon's men, now veterans of eight months on the job, do take credit for some remodeling of the departments of Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Health Education and Welfare.

However, "It's fair to say we haven't made much of a dent yet," said James E. Beggs, undersecretary of transportation. Plans are in the office at Transportation, as elsewhere, for decentralization and better coordination.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, announced this week the department's first major de-centralization step: the Federal Highway Administration's regional offices and not Washington officials will handle day-to-day administration of federally-aided state and local highway safety programs.

The department's jurisdiction ranges broadly from airports and railroads to urban mass transportation and highway safety.

"Too often the modalities have operated at cross purposes," said a Volpe aide. "We're going to see, for example, that when an airport is built sufficient highway access is available."

Down the street at the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Secretary George Romney is determined to bring once-separate fiefdoms to heel. His department was formed in 1965 from a collection of independent agencies. Romney has ordered that one of these, the Federal Housing Administration, merge its personnel, audit and legal sections with the rest of the department.

"The FHA will in fact be part of this department," said HUD general counsel Sherman Unger. "We may have to drag it in kicking and screaming."

Romney maintains the Democrats sinned by over-promising what the department could deliver. "We're going to scale down the appetite to what we can put on the plate," said undersecretary Richard C. Van Dusen. Romney is devoting most of his energies to Operation Breakthrough, a plan to bring mass production techniques to the housing field.

Management experts at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have concentrated so far on streamlining regional operations.

Department sources say Secretary Robert H. Finch hopes to transfer most decisions on program grants and supervision to his regional directors.

Stay Within Law, Forrest City Told

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Dr. George McPhail of Forrest City told about 700 dissident whites Wednesday night that the group must act within the law, but added that "You can roughen up a few Sweet Willies and be within the law."

The rally of "concerned citizens" at the St. Francis County Fairground was sponsored by the Concerned Citizens Committee. The committee was formed last week during a period of racial tension at Forrest City and has sponsored picketing of the city hall and police department at Forrest City in a demand for "law and order."

"All I ask you to do is to discipline yourself to be sure you deal with the criminal element when you rough them up," McPhail said.

"Sweet Willie" is Lance Watson, leader of a Memphis black militant group known as the Invaders. The group helped organize a Negro boycott of Forrest City merchants.

Watson, who recently led a "walk against fear" through Eastern Arkansas, suffered a broken elbow at Forrest City Aug. 26 when some whites in a crowd of several hundred roughed him up as picketing of city hall and the police station began.

McPhail said he understood a rally Watson plans to hold Sept. 14 at Forrest City was in "retaliation."

"All you folks be ready in case they do want to retaliate so you can help them retaliate," McPhail said.

He said he thought the committee movement would spread throughout the United States, which he said was marked by fear to a point that "you go to bed at night with a shooting iron under it to protect your own home."

Air Force to Cut Back 50,000 Men

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force will announce soon a cutback of about 50,000 officers and men.

This will bring the overall reduction of U.S. armed forces past the 150,000 mark as the services comply with orders to economize.

Details as to how the cutback will be applied throughout the Air Force still have not been buttoned down, sources said.

The Air Force's cost-saving drive may lead to fewer squadrons and further base closings.

The Pentagon already has disclosed plans to slash the Army by 34,000 men and the Navy by 72,000 men and 76 ships. Additional retirements of Navy vessels are expected.

Nothing has been said yet about Marine Corps troop cuts. Pentagon officials said these probably will be relatively light.

With obvious reluctance, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced on Aug. 21 that the armed services will have to absorb an additional $3 billion spending slash this fiscal year.

Blaming the Democratic-controlled Congress, Laird warned that "there will be an inevitable weakening of our worldwide military posture."

Although the Nixon administration has looked ahead to armed force reductions as the U.S. commitment in Vietnam is scaled down, it had not planned on moving this far this fast.

The expected Air Force manpower reduction, together with the Army and Navy cutbacks, will bring the total of U.S. armed forces close to 3.3 million men, about the level of late 1966 but still about 600,000 above the 2.7 million in uniform when the Vietnam war buildup developed in the summer of 1965.

According to sources, the current thinking involves a reduction of 44,000 Air Force enlisted men and about 6,000 officers.

The slimming down will be accomplished, not by mass releases of men but by taking in fewer replacements for men. Normally, the Air Force absorbs about 125,000 recruits a year.

There were approximately 659,000 registered nurses employed in the United States in 1968.

HELEN HELP US!

DROPPED GIRLS DON'T BOUNCE

Dear Helen: Why do guys seem to think it hurts a girl less if they drop her without any explanation? This has happened to me and other girls I know. First you think that maybe something happened so he can't call or come over. Then you start getting the picture, and you wonder, why, why, why? What did you do wrong? Then the hurting starts, because you're a loser. But hope is still there, and that's what hurts the most. Every time the phone rings you jump, thinking maybe it's him, calling to explain.

Oh, it goes away after a while, but it takes a lot of time to kill hope—and that "loser complex" stays with you. How much better it would be if the guy were honest and said "It's break-up time." I know, because I've had it both ways. At least you know where you stand, and you don't stop trusting ALL boys.—DROPPED AND HURTING

Dear D and H: Why don't boys (and people in general) level? Because it's easier to walk away than face an uncomfortable situation.

Honesty hurts, but many times it is a clean cut that leaves no jagged scars. Remember that, boys—and girls too—when it's break-up time.—H.

Dear Helen: I admire the person who wrote to your column describing her thrifty and hard-working childhood. It's a point in her favor that she came through an unloving situation with the strength of character her letter shows.

But the basic premise—that sometimes "an absolutely wonderful childhood isn't the best preparation for adult life—which is seldom that wonderful!"—STRIKES A WRONG NOTE.

As numerous personal relationships have shown me, hardship—in large doses or small—HAS hurt people, and will continue to do so until we see that a society of suppressed and spiritually deprived people cannot keep up the smoothly-running farce we call life indefinitely.

Persons who are constantly concerned with "making it" may be quick to adjust to their conventional role in society, but their sense of their actual selves is likely to be distorted if they judge themselves only by their material usefulness.

A childhood devoid of hardship has left me with a determination to work for a time when everyone can enjoy the material and spiritual generosity that my parents showed me, and when people no longer need justify their existence on the basis of "making it." —A DEFIANT BRAT

Dear Defiant: I think your "basic premise" is a bit more topside than mine. I said SOMETIMES a completely untroubled childhood leaves people unprepared for a tough world, this especially if the child has been too

For every idealistic Robert Kennedy, I can give you a dozen social workers, teachers, counselors, volunteers—without pay, dedicated men and women who have 'learned in reverse' from their deprived and barren beginnings. Of course this isn't the DEAL way, but then the world will never be the ideal place!

Often a not-so-perfect youth makes a person all the more eager to pull the next fellow out of the mire. And if this is "making it" his success DOES "justify his existence," right?—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Irwin Rosten, a bearded, out-door sort of man, seemed cooped up talking about mountain climbing and preserving the timber wolf. He is the executive producer of NBC's upcoming "Monogram" series, four hour-long actuality programs that will cover a wide variety of subjects from saving the wolf to tracing mankind's development during the past four million years.

Rosten and his partner, Nicholas Noxon, went into the documentary business after working on CBS' very successful "National Geographic Society" series. Now Rosten is largely office-bound while Noxon roams the world shooting film.

"We make programs about things we are interested in," Rosten explained. "Nick read an article about wolves being studied by some university scientists because they are on the threatened list. We started some research of our own and then contacted the people making the study."

Assembling an hour's worth of film took months and the camera crew traveled from Alaska to northern Minnesota in the bitter test winter weather to find their subjects. "But not until we had tested our own gear thoroughly and put our special cameras in the freezer section of the refrigerator," he said.

The wolf, he found, is a much maligned species—"their reputation for ferocity is undeserved and while a hungry wolf might attack a horse, we could find no documentary proof during the past 50 years that one had ever attacked a man."

Another program in the works consists largely of film and a sound track shot by "a bunch of amateur mountain climbers" tackling a rugged peak in Afghanistan.

"But that is unusual—to find really good stuff," Rosten said. Most documentaries are made by getting an idea and following through. A well-done documentary, involving color film and extensive travel can cost more than $250,000.

All networks have been on the look-out for actuality programs in the science-adventure-wild life category since CBS, several seasons back, had a surprise hit on its hands with the National Geographic series.

The shows drew not only critical cheers, but also audiences large enough to be rated in the top 10.

ABC signed up explorer

TOUGH KITTY but it's all in play. "Rewati," a rare white tiger, was born at the National Zoo in Washington, D.C. Here, she wraps her paws around a keeper's leg.

The National Geographic series will continue with four programs during the coming season. The first will show wild animal rituals and was filmed by a German naturalist.

Ashdown Is First Foe of Bobcats

BY RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Tomorrow night, it will seem like a week for the Hope Bobcats before the 7:30 p.m. kickoff comes at Ashdown, as the final minute butterflies set in.

Three weeks ago today it started for the Bobcats, who began running in conditioning drills for a week to get the kinks out and be ready for full pads. When the pads came, the stickers came forth while the rest left.

Confidence in the Hope squad has mushroomed in the past week or so, but the proven facts don't come till tomorrow and Ashdown. Attitude and leadership have been placed on a pedestal this pre-season, but no one will know for sure until Hope wins or loses.

Ashdown's Panthers are certainly a formidable opponent, with a Cinderella 9-3 year and the District 7-A championship just behind them. They get the home field advantage, too, though a large Hope following is being anticipated.

The Panthers personnel is relatively unknown, as it was last season. All-State quarterback Bill Perry graduated, which should put the Ashdown offense on a slightly lower level than last year. Senior Wiley Coley (6-1, 175) is the probable starter at QB, but his passing ability is not known.

With All-District junior half-back Jimmy Eskew (175), Ashdown should be able to run with the football fairly successfully. Richard Peacock, a 180-pound junior who had knee surgery in the off-season, is also being counted on to add punch to the running attack.

In the line, there is nothing to scoff at. Coach Dick Hays returns some fine linemen in center Bill Walker, a 195-pound junior; Billy Fischer, a senior guard scaling 175 pounds; Mike Pounds (195) a junior tackle who could be moved out to end; and junior Bobby Guthrie (170), a fine end and defensive halfback.

Another exceptional defensive halfback is senior David Ward (150), who should see offensive action as well. Other possible starters in the line are Bobby Black, a 215-pound junior tackle; Jerry Stoker (160) a senior noted for his blocking ability; and Lynn Freeman, a 180-pound senior tackle who saw a bit of action last fall.

What this all seems to point to is a confrontation similar to last year's opener at Hope, which Ashdown won 7-0. In that game, the Bobcats entered with a much-lauded offensive unit which fizzled with five fumbles within thirty yards of paydirt, three inside the 15-yard stripe.

Four sophomores, all of whom played on the 6-1 Bobkitten squad a year ago, have broken into the defensive lineup. They are the key to a Hope victory, for it is their playing which will give other offensive players the rest of not going both ways.

Soph Steve Harris will start at left linebacker, as senior Jim Alford was moved into tackle. This was because Alford may have lost some edge off his offensive tackle performance if he had been under the responsibilities of a linebacker too. But Harris is being counted on for a solid game on defense, in his first high school contest.

Another 10th grader, 195-pounder Lynn Norton, is starting at defensive tackle. Norton comes off of a great year defensively for the Bobkittens, and the coaching staff hopes that he can assert himself in senior high competition before the conference games rolls around.

At monster man will be soph Rusty Quillin, a scrappy 155-pounder who has worked in well so far. He will get a tough test in the outside running ability of Ashdown's Eskew, and he is being counted on to come through.

Finally Ray Wheelington is slated to start at defensive halfback, which he played while set-

Davis Has Flair for Dramatics

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Davis, the Los Angeles Dodgers outfielder, should write novels during the baseball off season. He has a flair for the dramatic.

He kept alive the longest consecutive game hitting streak in more than 20 years in the major leagues with dramatic suddenness Wednesday night.

Thwarted in four previous times at bat in an effort to hit in his 31st consecutive game, he came up in the ninth inning and socked the first pitch for a double that scored Maury Wills from second to beat the New York Mets 5-4.

The hit to left field, which was first scored as a single, was in direct contrast to Davis' ninth inning appearance Tuesday night against the Mets.

He came up then with the tying run on third and the Dodgers behind 5-4. He struck out to end the game.

First base was open, with one out and Wills on second, when Davis came to the plate to face relief pitcher Jack DiLauro Wednesday night.

Gil Hodges, the Mets' manager, said he considered walking Davis, but decided to pitch to him in view of his four futile tries to extend his streak.

Davis said he got the pitch he thought he would. "It was a sidearm curve and when I saw it I said to myself 'here it comes' and I smacked it."

The victory kept the Dodgers one game back of San Francisco in the NL West mad scramble and one-half game ahead of the Cincinnati Reds.

San Francisco shaded Montreal 2-1, Cincinnati blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0, Atlanta trounced Pittsburgh 8-1 and Philadelphia romped over San Diego 9-1 in other NL games. Houston and St. Louis were idle.

Minnesota tripped Cleveland 7-1, Detroit defeated Kansas City 4-2 and Oakland split a morning-afternoon doubleheader with Boston in the only American League games scheduled.

Oakland beat the Red Sox 7-4 in the morning game, Boston won the second 5-1.

Claude Osteen, seeking his 19th victory, was breezing along with a 4-0 lead over Jerry Koosman and the Mets until the eighth.

Then two-run homers by Tommie Agee and Donn Clendenon tied the score and set the stage for Davis' dramatic game ending swat. Davis was mobbed by spectators swirling around him at third base as he left the field.

Pete Mikkelsen was the winning pitcher in relief for the Dodgers. DiLauro took the loss for the Mets.

The Mets stayed five games back of Chicago in the NL East since the Cubs absorbed a two-hit shutout from the Reds' Jim Maloney.

The Cubs' two hits, both singles, were made by Don Kessinger in the third and by losing pitcher Bill Hands in the sixth.

The Giants made only two hits against Montreal, but one was a single by Jim Davenport with the bases full in the seventh that drove in both of the Giants' runs.

Losing pitcher Mike Wegener of the Expos had loaded the sacks on three bases on balls before Davenport came up. The Giants' other hit was another single by Ron Hunt in the fourth.

Juan Marichal, who chalked up his 17th victory, had to bear down with all his skill in the ninth when Montreal put the tying run on third with none out on Mack Jones' triple.

"I was worried," Marichal said afterwards. "I wanted to strike out the next three batters, but didn't think I could. I hope they would hit a ground ball to someone."

That's what happened. Coco Laboy grounded out to Davenport at third. So did Ron Brand. Second baseman Hunt threw out Jim Fairley to end the game.

Atlanta exploded for eight runs in the sixth against the Pirates to snap a six-game losing streak. Pinchhitter Rico Carty capped the outburst with a three-run bases loaded double.

ting rushing records on offense for the Bobkittens last fall. Ray weighs 160 now, and will provide depth behind Artis Martin at back also.

Should this defense come through for the Bobcats, then it will be up to another much-talked-about offense to put the points on the board. A crucial factor in a tight situation will be the team's ability to run for two points after a TD. But we still can't talk in positives, because the record is still 0-0 and will be until about 9:30 p.m. tomorrow night.

Unbeaten Chiefs Have Lot at Stake

By SHEILA MORAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Kansas City Chiefs have more at stake than just another scalp when they invade Atlanta Saturday night in the American Football League's exhibition wrapup weekend.

The unbeaten Chiefs, already co-owners of one preseason record, are seeking sole possession of another. There hasn't been an unbeaten AFL team since 1966 when both the Chiefs and the New York Jets each whacked four AFL opponents.

The Chiefs already have strung out the scalps of Oakland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and St. Louis as the AFL's only undefeated team and are favored to add Atlanta, 2-2, to the list.

Atlanta will unleash its running trip of Jim Butler, rookie Paul Gipson and Junior Coffey against the likes of the Chiefs' Robert Holmes and Mike Garrett. In last week's 31-21 victory over St. Louis, Holmes carried eight times for 75 yards and Garrett 15 for 51.

Chiefs' quarterback Len Dawson has thrown six touchdown passes in the past two games—four against Los Angeles and two against St. Louis—and hasn't been trapped in either. Bob Berry is expected to start at quarterback for the Falcons.

While the Chiefs go for one for the book, the Dallas Cowboys, 3-1, say they're ready for the world champion Jets 3-2 at the Cotton Bowl. The game has been sold out for two weeks—the earliest sellout in Cowboy history.

"I think we can beat them," Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry said. "But it will be a tough football game. I don't anticipate a lot of scoring because our offense hasn't jelled yet. We've been playing good defense though."

"Joe Namath is one of the best and quickest throwing quarterbacks I've ever seen. He's a lot like Johnny Unitas. They're both quick in getting rid of the ball. And boy is that Namath accurate."

Both teams enter the game minus some familiar faces. The Cowboys placed halfback Dan Reeves and safetyman Mike Gaechter on the waived injury list, waived flanker Bobby Joe Conrad to the taxi squad and cut Bill Saul, former Pittsburgh linebacker. Saul was claimed by two National Football League clubs who were not immediately identified.

The Jets, unable to obtain waivers on defensive tackle

Karl Henke, recalled him and then traded him to Boston for a future draft choice. Henke was one of six Jets placed on waivers Monday.

The Minnesota Vikings, who host the winless New York Giants in a nationally televised game Saturday, have acquired quarterback John Huarte and kicker Rick Duncan from the Philadelphia Eagles for a draft choice.

Huarte, All-American at Notre Dame in 1964, was on the Eagles' roster part of last season and completed seven of 15 passes for 110 yards and one touchdown. Duncan, Philadelphia's reserve punter last season, averaged 45.6 yards on five punts.

In other games Saturday, the Buffalo Bills and O. J. Simpson, 1-4, tackle the Rams 2-2, at Los Angeles; Houston, 2-2, is at New Orleans, 2-2; Cleveland, 2-1-1 plays the Redskins at Washington; Detroit, 3-1, and Philadelphia, 2-1, tangle at Raleigh, N.C.; Pittsburgh, 1-2, is at Green Bay, 2-2; Miami 0-5, faces Boston, 2-2 at Birmingham, Ala., and Cincinnati, 2-2, entertains Denver 1-3.

St. Louis, 2-2, is at San Francisco, 0-4, in the only game Sunday.

Roche Feels He Can Stop Rod Laver

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Tony Roche is one man unwilling to go with the tide of sentiment that there can be no stopping Rod Laver in the U.S. Open tennis championships.

"I've beaten Rod five times this year and lost to him twice," the young Australian said. "I'd say my track record against him is pretty good."

Laver, unbeaten in 27 straight matches and bidding to add the American to his Australian, French and Wimbledon titles for a pro grand slam, is the overwhelming favorite for the $18,000 first prize.

He must face another tough Australian, Roy Emerson, in the quarter-finals today and if he comes through that one take on the winner of the match between Arthur Ashe, Jr., the defending titleholder, and the veteran Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Roche wouldn't get to Laver until the finals Sunday, and this would be a battle between two mighty left-handers fighting for No. 1 in the world ranking.

Roche has a fourth round date today with 41-year-old Pancho Gonzales, who beat him in straight sets a year ago, and, looking ahead, must dispose of improved Butch Buchholz in the first round.

The men's semifinals will be played Friday, women's final Saturday and men's final Sunday. The championship matches will be on television (CBS).

Some local folks had good success Salmon fishing last month in Oregon. Brian Roberts of Hope, Rt. 3 is shown with some of the salmon he caught at West Port, Washington last month. One weighed 36 pounds. They were visiting Ralph D. Wiggins, formerly of Hope, now of Seattle.

quarter-finals and the winner of the match between John Newcombe and Fred Stolle, both Australian in the semifinals in order to reach a last-round confrontation with Laver.

Any way you look at it, it's a big order.

With Wednesday's program completely washed out, the Thursday schedule begins with the two ladies' semifinal matches—favored Margaret Court of Australia against defending champion Virginia Wade of England and Rose Casals of San Francisco and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., both starting at 11 a.m. EDT.

Then follows the delayed Gonzales-Roche match and three men's quarter-finals, Laver, Emerson, Ashe-Rosewall, Stolle-Newcombe.

The men's semifinals will be played Friday, women's final Saturday and men's final Sunday. The championship matches will be on television (CBS).

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by
Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president —balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Prescription Required For Non-Aspirin Drugs

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

and what can I do to stop it?

A—Tinnitus is a term that covers hissing, buzzing, ringing and roaring head noises.

Like the poor, the victims of tinnitus are with us always.

In persons who are past 50, the noises may be caused by hardening of the arteries in the auditory nerve or the hearing center of the brain.

But in persons of any age, such drugs as quinine, caffeine, aspirin and streptomycin may be the cause.

Excessive smoking, anemia, Meniere's disease and working in very noisy surroundings are other causes.

If yours is due to a cause that can be eliminated, this should be done. Otherwise, you will have to learn to live with it.

A mild tranquilizer sometimes helps.

Q—I am taking Hydropres. What is it given for?

A—High blood pressure.

Q—Could Hydromox taken for several years cause deafness and roaring in the head?

A—No.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

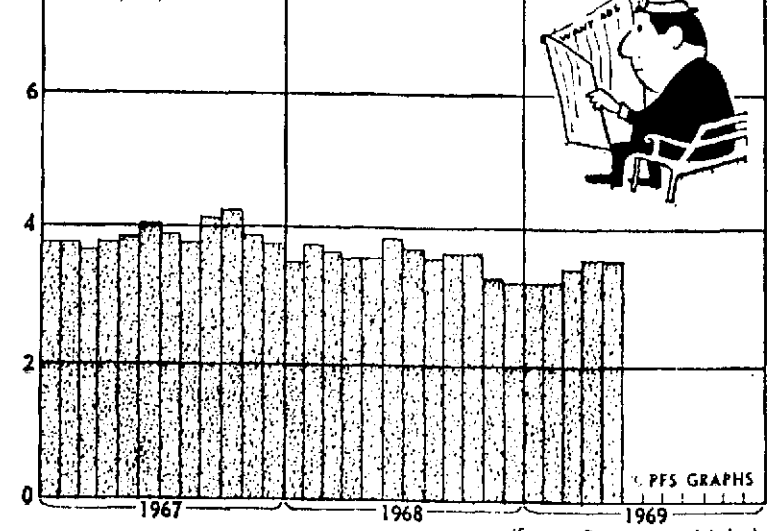

In the peak year of 1846, 729 Yankee whale ships prowled the globe in search of sperm whales, whose oil was used for lighting, lubrication and soapmaking. The World Almanac says. But the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania in 1859, the Civil War and the decrease in the number of whales diminished the industry.

Q—I am 70 and have had tinnitus for six years. The roaring is worse when I am lying down. What causes it?

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

There are no provisions in any of the coinage acts requiring an engraver to sign or initial his work. Nor is there any clause restricting him from doing so. The designer's mark and the mint letter usually appear at the discretion of the mint director and few have ever met with much opposition.

Victor D. Brenner's V.D.B. on the reverse of the 1909 Lincoln-head cent caused some unfavorable comment but it reappeared on the 1918 issue and has been with us ever since.

Christian Gobrecht was a bit more demonstrative with his signature. He signed his Seated Liberty (pattern) dollar in 1836 immediately below the plane supporting Liberty with C. Gobrecht F. The letter F standing for Fecit—a Latin term for "made it." After a few specimens were struck, Gobrecht removed his name under some pressure, but it was replaced on the plane on the orders of Director Patterson, this time without the F.

Barber, Morgan, MacNeil and Fraser were introverts when it came to identifying their work.

James Longacre elected to use a serif letter L, concealed at the apex of the last feather in the headdress and the last strand of hair on the Indian-head cent. To make it interesting, it is necessary to turn the cent one-quarter turn counter-clockwise from a normal reading position in order to read the L correctly. It first appeared on the 1864 cent and all issues after that.

A. A. Weinman and Gilroy Roberts preferred to stylize their marks. Weinman's monogram makes an interesting study. At first the superimposed letters look like an A under a W. On his Liberty (Mercury head) dime of 1916 that is exactly what it is. But on the reverse of the Walking Liberty half-dollar the initials are AAW—superimposed.

Roberts, on the other hand, merely caused the GR to appear as a single character reversed and opposing itself. While many sculptors and engravers allow their signatures to vary in each work, Roberts' GR remains constant on each piece he turns out.

The last of our cartwheels bears a very simple monogram on the face just under the portrait of Miss Liberty.

Red Koreans Insist on U.S. Apology

By K. C. HWANG
Associated Press Writer

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — North Korea said today that it will not release the three crewmen of an American helicopter shot down Aug. 17 unless the United States admits they were on a criminal mission.

The United States said it would admit only that the helicopter had entered Communist territory inadvertently in violation of the Korean armistice agreement, and would give assurances that such an incident would not recur.

Maj. Gen. Lee Choon-sun, representing North Korea at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss the release of the three Americans, demanded an "unconditional apology" admitting that the helicopter was on a "criminal mission," as well as a written assurance that there will be no more such incidents in the future.

U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Adams replied: "It is preposterous to state that we dispatched the unarmed helicopter willfully or with any hostile intention."

Adams repeated the U.S. contention that the helicopter strayed over North Korea accidentally while on a training flight, and that it had no weapons or advanced navigational equipment aboard.

Despite the refusal of Adams to offer any more than an apology, there was speculation that eventually the United States would secure the release of the airmen by the same device that freed the crew of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo.

After the 82 Navy men had been held for 11 months, the United States signed a statement admitting the ship was spying in North Korea's territorial waters. But just before he signed the document at a ceremony in Panmunjom, the U.S. representative, Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward, announced that the State Department had instructed him to repudiate the statement before signing it.

U.S. officials admitted that the procedure of denying the statement and then signing it was "kooky," but they said it seemed to satisfy the North Koreans and resulted in the return of the captives.

State 37th in Expenditures

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures places Arkansas 37th in expenditures per capita on the legislative branch of government.

The study covered the fiscal years 1966-67 and 1967-68 and showed that the expenditure per capita in Arkansas was about 95 cents. The study also showed an expenditure of $13,850 for each of the state's 135 legislators, ranking Arkansas 35th in expenditures per legislator.

Casualties in Vietnam Drop Slightly

SAIGON (AP) — Casualties in the Vietnam War dropped slightly on both sides last week, and South Vietnamese headquarters said the trend resulted from a marked decrease in enemy activity.

The U.S. Command said 185 Americans were killed in action and 1,057 were wounded, compared with 190 killed and 1,387 wounded in the previous week.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported government casualties last week of 354 killed and 966 wounded. The week before, 398 killed and 928 wounded were reported.

The two commands reported 2,493 enemy were killed last week, compared with a revised figure of 2,724 a week earlier.

The South Vietnamese command said enemy activity last week "decreased 34 per cent compared to that of the previous week," but that government forces "strongly maintained offensive efforts throughout the country to destroy enemy units."

Most of the heavy fighting involving U.S. troops, took place in areas south of Da Nang. This included action near the refugee settlement at Hiep Duc and the Que Son Valley.

The latest casualty figures raised to 38,313 the number of Americans reported killed in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961. The number of wounded in that period rose to 248,153, and another 1,348 Americans are listed as missing or captured.

The number of enemy reported killed by allied forces since Jan. 1, 1961, was put by the U.S. Command at 546,804.

Back Zippers Assure Marriage Will Never Go Out of Style

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite some current predictions, I'm sure marriage will never go out of style as long as dresses with back zippers stay in style.

While husbands like to think they are indispensable for financial support, companionship and a few other contributions to a happy home, the real secret of their tenure is their availability as instant zipper-uppers.

Although numerous gadgets have been designed by ingenious inventors to cope with this early morning problem, none is as efficient as a sleepy spouse with a good right arm.

An informal survey indicates that most husbands are willing to give the zipper a healthy yank if they can open their eyes wide enough to spot the pull tab. But at that point their helpfulness halts.

To a man they balk at finding the tiny loop at the neck of the dress that theoretically accepts the small hook on the other side. To achieve this feat takes complete dedication to the challenge, 20-20 vision, a long history of sobriety, a willingness to miss the 7:38 commuter train and a wife who is able to stand motionless for extended periods with her head bent forward at a 45-degree angle.

Since most of the time the wispy bits of thread originally destined to accept the hook are no longer in existence, the whole business becomes an exercise in futility. The operation puts a severe strain on the husband's eyes, his temper and the marital bonds.

This is not the only area in which fashion fouls up the blissful boy-girl relationship. The new identical unisex styles are exposing a wide compatibility gap between otherwise loving couples.

It is somewhat simple to arrive at a compromise on whether the pants should be striped or plaid, straight or bell-bottom. The trouble starts when the two

Child Beaten to Death

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A 4-year-old boy adopted just two months ago died Wednesday after being beaten so badly an officer said, "It just made your heart ache."

Sheriff Ross Boyer of Sarasota County said he charged the child's adoptive parents with murder. Ward W. Wilcox, 51, a golf course grounds keeper, and his wife Patricia, 45, were jailed without bond.

The sheriff said the child's parents took David to a Sarasota hospital Wednesday. He was dead on arrival.

"After the resident physicians took one look at it they called our department," Boyer said. "There were bruises all over this child's body."

Boyer said the bruises were "both new and old," caused "by stick and by human hand." He said the parents reported they had disciplined the child.

Hell's Angels in Warning to Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Hell's Angels, a California-based group, has given Texarkana, Tex., until Sept. 15 to clean up its rat problem.

City Manager Ben Mizell has received a letter from the group saying it will come into town and burn out the rats if the city does not get rid of the rats.

Much of the letter could not be quoted, but it did say that "eight or 10 well placed fires will get rid of the rats, political or otherwise."

The letter mentioned the national publicity that the rats have caused Texarkana. It was received on letterhead stationery from the organization's California headquarters and was signed by Sonny Barger, who identified himself as the head of the Hell's Angels in Oakland, Calif.

The city received nationwide publicity several months ago about a hearse used as a "rat patrol" to help rid the city of rats, which officials have said averaged 17 per person.

Quatemala Feels Fury of Hurricane

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Francella smashed into the hills of Guatemala today and began breaking up after inflicting heavy damage to property and crops in a sweep across southern British Honduras.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami forecast rainfall up to 20 inches. High tides threatened to inundate coastal villages along the triangle formed by the Gulf of Honduras.

Francella went ashore Wednesday just north of Punta Gorda, one of several fishing communities that dot the coastal areas, with winds estimated at 110 miles an hour.

More than 4,000 persons were evacuated as Francella swept toward landfall.

GIs Battle Cong Inside Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops clashed with "enemy" soldiers inside Cambodia after an American helicopter was shot down Monday and crashed a mile across the border, the U.S. Command announced today.

"The violation of Cambodian air space was unintentional," a U.S. communique said.

One South Vietnamese and two "enemy" were killed, U.S. headquarters said, and two American crewmen and three South Vietnamese were wounded.

The helicopter was one of three American aircraft which the U.S. Command today reported downed. Fifteen Americans died in two other crashes north of Saigon.

Two other U.S. helicopters were hit Wednesday while supporting a badly mauled South Vietnamese force that was forced into retreat after four days of fighting near Song Be, See GIs BATTLE (on page two)

Thinks Tax Reforms Are Too Much

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the House tax reform bill gives too much to some taxpayers and takes too much from corporations, but he nevertheless hailed it as a milestone.

"The administration urges its enactment at the earliest practicable date," Kennedy said in testimony prepared for the first session of Senate Finance Committee hearings on the bill.

The bill "should be improved in a number of respects," Kennedy added, but he did not recommend changing the House reduction of the controversial oil depletion allowance.

The Treasury proposal, spelled out in an 81-page statement prepared by Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen, would after 1971 trim the House reductions for individuals by $2.5 billion a year and slice the tax increases for corporations by $1.4 billion.

Overall, the proposal would bring in $1.07 billion a year more than the tax bill approved overwhelmingly by the House on Aug. 7. The House bill would cost $2.4 billion a year by 1972, a figure Kennedy said he wanted to cut to $1.3 billion.

Both proposals, however, would cut individual taxes for all but the highest income brackets below what they are now and raise net corporation taxes, although the administration would like to lower the corporate rate 2 per cent over two years.

Treasury approved of the income tax rate reduction for individuals, but asked that the standard deduction be raised only to 2 per cent, with a ceiling of $1,400, instead of 15 per cent with a 3,300 15 per cent with a $2,000 ceiling, as the House voted. It is now 10 per cent, with a maximum of $1,000.

Treasury's deduction plan would cost an estimated $770 million a year compared to $1.34 billion for the House bill.

In Long Run Death of Ho Could Have Impact on Events in Vietnam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In the long run, Ho Chi Minh's departure from the stage can have a decided impact on events in Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Ho's passing can prove a strong blow to North Vietnamese and Liberation Front morale. Particularly in his later years, Ho was not the stereotyped figure of a Communist strong-man ruler, but rather a symbol, a father figure, a personality who cannot be replaced.

It was in the name of "Uncle Ho" that appeals went from Hanoi to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong exhorting them to pursue protracted war to the finish, even if it should take 20 years. It was in Ho's name that slogans were fashioned for the unification of Vietnam. It was Ho whose name a dozen years ago was considered so powerful that it, alone, was believed capable of swinging a popular vote in any election. That may have changed under Communist rule in the North, but the name remained potent medicine among many in the South.

Thus it was the name of Ho, rather than the office of the presidency, which carried the authority with the Laodong (Communist) party in the North and with the guerrillas in the South. The question of a successor as president is thus of importance mostly in what it may reveal about the present power structure.

Ho frequently was believed to have been the arbiter of intra-party disputes and the last word in settlement of such disputes among members of what appeared from time to time to be a divided Politburo. His presence could have been sufficient to keep others from squabbling among themselves for power.

Until about five years ago there were strong signs of division in the Politburo along pro-Chinese and pro-Soviet lines. Much in the future depends upon the progress of Soviet-Chinese hostility.

It is probable that North Vietnam's future rests in the hands of four top men—Le Duan, the party's first secretary; Truong Chinh, chairman of the National Assembly; Premier Pham Van Dong and Marshal Vo Nguyen Giap.

Chinh has the reputation of being strongly pro-Chinese. His name is an alias, dating from the days when he was with Mao Tse-tung in Yenan at the time of the historic "long march." Truong Chinh means "long march," a token of his admiration for Mao. He was formerly known as Dang Xuan Khu.

A revolutionist since his youth in the 1920s, Chinh helped Ho and Pham found the Indo-Chinese Communist party and was its propaganda director. He

Ho Chi Minh, Cong Leader, Succumbs

By EDWIN G. WHITE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam began a week of mourning today for Ho Chi Minh and planned a state funeral for the father of Vietnamese independence.

The 79-year-old president of North Vietnam died Wednesday after "a grave and sudden heart attack," Radio Hanoi reported. The announcement said Ho died at 9:47 a.m. Hanoi time, which was 9:47 p.m. Tuesday EDT. But word of his death was withheld for nearly 21 hours, until about 6:40 p.m. EDT Wednesday. In the interim Hanoi Radio prepared the North Vietnamese people for word of the death with periodic reports that "his condition was getting worse."

"Everyone tried their utmost and gave of their best to save him at any price," Hanoi Radio said, "but because of his advanced age and serious illness of the sudden severe heart attack, President Ho has left us forever."

The broadcast said "the most solemn ceremonial state funeral of our nation" would be organized but it did not say when the rites would be held.

The North Vietnamese delegation in Paris asked for a postponement of today's weekly session of the peace talks but said it would be ready to resume the talks next Thursday.

There was no indication whether North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would call a ceasefire during the mourning period. In San Clemente, Calif., a spokesman said President Nixon would make no comment on Ho's death. U.S. military and diplomatic authorities in Saigon also did not comment.

After announcing Ho's death, the Hanoi broadcast appealed to "the entire party, the entire army and the entire people" to "contribute both their minds and their force to the great task of defeating the U.S. aggressors" and "liberating South Vietnam."

North Vietnam's top political and constitutional bodies appealed to "our party, armed forces and people to translate sorrow into revolutionary acts" to achieve the "lofty aspiration cherished by President Ho Chi Minh—the building of a peaceful, unified, independent, democratic, prosperous and powerful Vietnam."

Informed sources in Saigon said it was unlikely the North Vietnamese Leader's death would result in any important changes in Hanoi's war policy.

South Vietnamese and American officials in Saigon expect a triumvirate leadership to emerge in the next few months, made up of Le Duan, the pro-Moscow first secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist party; Truong Chinh, the pro-Peking chairman of the National Assembly, and Premier Pham Van Dong.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the defense minister and chief military strategist, may be a fourth member.

A likely interim president is Ton Duc Thang, the 81-year-old vice president of the party.

Sarver Quits Arkansas Prison Post

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State Corrections Commissioner C. Robert Sarver Wednesday told the state Board of Correction that Ron Hembree, assistant prison commissioner in charge of religious services, had resigned.

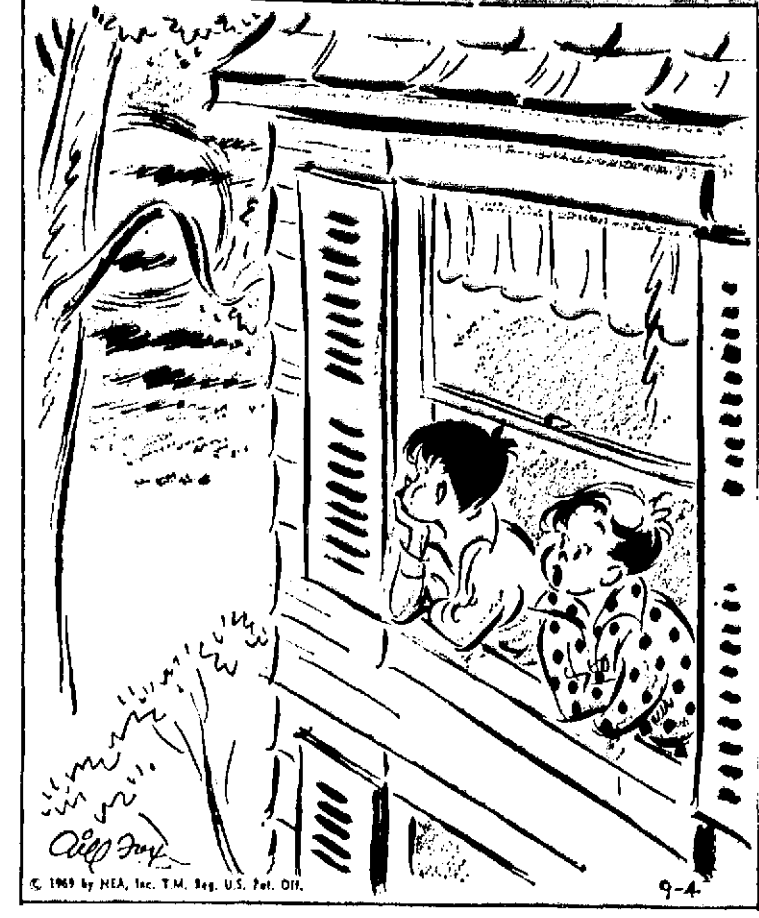

Sarver said Hembree, 31, had left Arkansas to become pastor of a church at Sacramento, Calif.

Hembree, who had been with the prison system since Feb. 1, started a successful drive to build a chapel at Tucker Prison Farm and then began a drive for a chapel at Cummins Prison Farm. Sarver said Friday was Hembree's last day.

George Tannous, chief fiscal officer for the Department of Correction, told the board during its meeting at Cummins Prison Farm that projected farm income from Tucker and Cummins would be $1,410,919 during the current fiscal year.

There will be a number of new students, male and female, who will be enrolling Sept. 8 at Red River Vocational - Technical School, according to J. W. Rowe, director. He asks residents

Planes Comb Judea Desert for Dr. Pike

JERUSALEM (AP) — Troops, policemen and airplanes combed the Judean desert again today for Dr. James Pike, but officials held out little hope that the former Episcopal bishop of California was still alive.

Pike, 56, has been missing since Monday night, after his rented car got stuck about eight miles west of the Dead Sea. His 31-year-old wife left him on a hillside and walked all night until she reached a road workers' camp.

Mrs. Pike told police she and her husband were doing research on a book and decided to drive through the desert for a few hours to "get the feel of the Judean hills." She said the car got stuck in rocks and boulders about 3 p.m. and they were unable to free it despite trying for about two hours.

Then the couple set out on foot toward the Dead Sea. After two hours of walking, Pike complained of leg pains and told his wife to go on without him.

"I suggested that he take a nap and when he got his strength to follow me," she said. "I left him atop a small mountain about six or seven miles west of the Dead Sea."

Two hundred soldiers and troops began the search for Pike Tuesday on foot and in helicopters and light planes. First they found the car, with Pike's wallet and passport in it. Later they found a map in a dry river bed about a mile east of the car, and Mrs. Pike said her husband had been carrying it before they were separated.

There were four theories to explain Pike's disappearance. — That he had taken refuge in one of the many caves in the area to escape daytime temperatures of more than 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

— That he had fallen victim to a beast of prey.

— That he had succumbed to the heat and that his body was beneath some overhanging cliff.

— That he had been found by Bedouin nomads and taken to one of their camps.

Thinks Public Impatient With Vietnam War

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen back from pulse-taking visits home say the nation is in a generally quiet mood but with disturbing signs that its patience is running thin on Vietnam.

Although the issue of school desegregation inflames the South and no one is happy with high prices, taxes and interest rates, it is the continuing war that produces the most complaints, they report.

So far the war still is associated with the previous Democratic administrations but both Democrats and Republicans say if the conflict drags on much longer it will exert the same deadly effect on President Nixon.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS ON NEW GRAPEFRUIT DIET.

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily, long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged this new diet lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden."

Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick" weight loss is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the trigger) to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3.00 to:

Gulf Co.
P.O. Box 524
Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Unconditional money back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $3.00 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Order now before others snap up the limited supply.

PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

How much money do you need to become a mutual fund investor? Here's a breakdown of the minimums required by about 340 of the major funds, in answer to the letters of many readers, most of whom seem to have the impression that you need a good-sized bundle before a mutual fund will say "Hello."

The figures show that, if you have enough to open a savings account, you have enough to become a shareholder in almost a third of the funds.

Before telling you how easy it is to own mutual fund shares, however, we'll repeat the admonition of every responsible investment counselor, stock broker, securities salesman and (remember we said "responsible") mutual fund salesman.

Don't begin investing in securities—either individual stocks or via mutual funds—until (1) you have your insurance needs taken care of, and (2) you have enough of a reserve, in cash savings or the equivalent to see you through the worst emergency you can imagine.

Once you've reached that point, you might well begin to think about investments in equities that offer the possibility of growth, as a hedge against the inflation that promises to be with us for years, well-meaning efforts of Washington notwithstanding. And for the beginning investor this almost necessarily means mutual funds.

More and more of the brokerage firms just aren't interested unless you arrive on their doorstep with several thousand to invest. They're caught in a profit squeeze, and the little guy simply isn't a profitable account. There are a few notable exceptions to this, but they're just that—exceptions.

Quite the contrary with the mutual funds. Since the money manager here is running one pooled fund—not a multitude of individual accounts—it's the more the merrier, so far as their economics of operation are concerned. And as the mutual funds have proliferated in number, and grown in size, during the past three or four years, they've found it feasible to lower the price of admission.

Of more than 350 funds on which data are given in "The 1969 Manual of Mutual Funds," by Yale Hirsch, 337 furnished information on minimum investment. Here's how we break down the manual's figures:

Number of Minimum

IT'S SHIPSHAPE although it looks as though a tornado had placed the boat atop the house. It's the home of a retired steamboat captain in Venice, Italy, who built the model boat and set it on his roof.

funds	investment
120	None
38	$0-100
43	$100
42	$100-200
43	$100-300
36	$200-500
13	$1,000

There are two funds with a minimum of $2,500, and one each with minimums of $5,000, $10,000, $15,000, $25,000 and $50,000. These are either for institutional investors, or they're so speculative that they've raised the jump bar high enough to keep the kids out, so the amateurs won't get hurt.

These aren't firm figures. Some funds, for example, state minimums in number of shares. And 25 shares might fall either in the $0-100 category, or the $100-200, depending on fluctuations in price of shares. But it gives you the picture.

The picture is muddled somewhat by the inclusion of "front-end load" plans, all of which have low minimums. This column has made it clear a number of times that we share the view of the Securities and Exchange Commission: There should be legislation banning front-end load (contractual) plans.

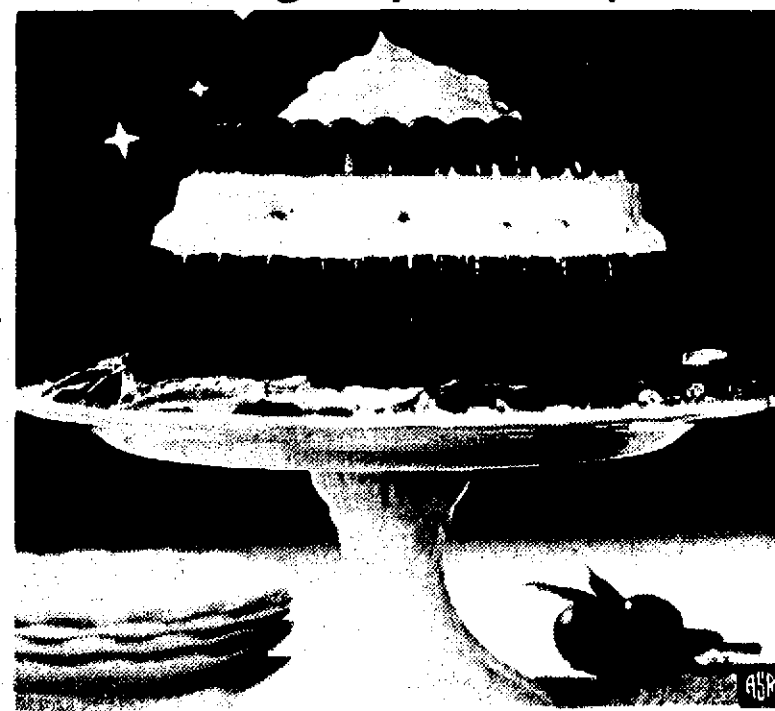

But, with all that, the figures show that you can become a mutual fund investor—and in some of the best-performing funds—for the price of one share, which is what "no minimum" means. That can run from less than $5 to more than $25.

Wordy Trial Coverage

The 1925 Scopes trial, held in Dayton, Tenn., and pitting Clarence Darrow against William Jennings Bryan, was one of the most widely publicized trials in history. An average of 175,000 words a day were telegraphed out of Dayton to newspapers, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Entertaining? Try A Cherry Mold

If you are looking for a certain something special to serve for any entertaining event, try this recipe for Princess Cherry Mold. It is at once "a thing of beauty and a joy to eat." The combination of fruit cocktail and cherry flavored gelatin makes a good flavor start, and the embellishing flavors of cream cheese, salad dressing, nuts and maraschino cherries change this into a flavor treat that will surely earn you the compliments of your guests. You'll like the ease of preparation, too. It only takes minutes to prepare for chilling, and when you unmold this beauty you'll want to make it again and again. The topping of Miracle Whip Salad Dressing adds the last and perfect flavor touch.

Princess Cherry Mold

2 3-oz. pkgs. cherry flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 cup cold water
1/2 cup syrup from fruit cocktail
2 cups (1 lb. can) fruit cocktail, drained

Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
1 8-oz. pkg. Philadelphia Brand Cream Cheese
1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries

Dissolve cherry gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and syrup. Chill until slightly thickened; fold in fruit cocktail. Pour 1/2 cups gelatin mixture in 1 1/2-quart mold; chill until firm. Gradually add 1/2 cup salad dressing to softened cream cheese, mixing until well blended. Stir in cherries and nuts; spread over gelatin layer. Chill. Pour remaining gelatin mixture over cream cheese layer; chill until firm. Unmold; top with additional salad dressing. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

WHEELING

By BOB COCHNAR
NEA Automotive Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—My father's old friend Arthur Buck was the car's original owner and, lucky for me, he cared about cars. In 1956, Mr. Buck's 1948 Nash Ambassador coupe became my first automobile. I paid him $75 for it.

The first car. Most people can recall the moment vividly because, in this nation on wheels, it represents a major turning point, a new freedom, a release from parental surveillance. It is, for young Americans, the real beginning of manhood.

Although this ungainly black beast with the overhead valve, six-cylinder engine was no clunker (Mr. Buck cared about cars), it still had to become MY car. So, as all high school kids did back in the dark ages of the middle '50s, my first mission was a trip to the Manny, Moe and Jack auto supply store in Passaic, N.J., a few miles from my home town.

Like the Drive-In and Gieschen's ice cream store, Manny, Moe and Jack was a much-frequented place. Almost once a week we'd squeal into the parking lot, set the brake, and amble into the place where chromium exhaust extensions, side-view mirrors, ruby reflectors, dashboard ornaments and wheel rims twinkled and gleamed in the fluorescent light, beckoning to us like the green light on the end of Daisy's dock.

That first day I selected a three-inch chrome exhaust pipe (which, when attached, turned the exhaust note into a deep-throated, honeyed burble) and a side mirror. I was to return many times.

The Nash was a funny-looking car which, back then, kids didn't own. The hot kid cars of the period were '49, '50 and '51 chopped-top Fords and Mercs, or perhaps an orange-and-white Pontiac Catalina hardtop or a '50 Chevy. A Nash was nowhere.

My black Ambassador was a coop (other people, adults, called it a coo-pee) and the Nash people, for some reason, dubbed it a brougham. (brougham? brougham?). The inline six was a huge engine with more torque than anyone ever expected. It also had an overdrive gizmo and a foot-operated radio selector.

One summer evening, not too long after the Nash was mine, it had its first real test. My friend Nick had this mean '51 Ford which he had lowered about three inches—so low that the rubber mud flaps scraped the road when Nick popped the clutch and laid rubber.

Well, Nick and I were cruising down Hackensack Street that night, checking out the chicks. We crashed-braked at the light and Nick was racing the Ford's engine and giving me the sign. I nodded and we waited for the light to blink green.

The tach (if I had a tach) was probably inching into the danger groove at 4,000 r.p.m. as I popped the clutch and rammed the accelerator into the floorboards. The Nash shuddered, and tires screamed in unaccustomed pain and we roared away. I shifted into second, the speed was building. And third. At the end of the block Nick's big-deal Ford was four inches off my pace.

The ordeal was over and Nick and my other Ford and Merc-driving friends were impressed. The Nash had done well and now was regarded with that kind of respect any kid dreams for his car and, certainly, for himself.

I used to drive the Nash to school almost every day which, I suppose, was silly since we lived little more than a block away. But when you own wheels, as any kid knows, you make sure everybody is aware.

The second summer I took the Nash up to the North Jersey woods, where I was a camp counselor. We used to drive over the New York state border where 18-year-olds could pick up legal beer.

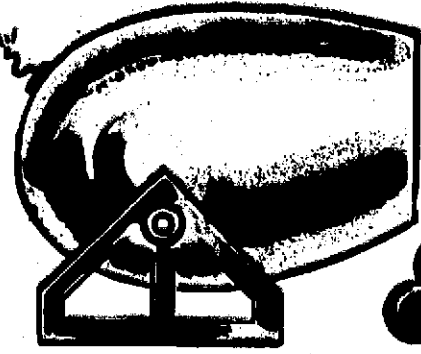

In the fall, I was going to college where freshmen weren't allowed automobiles, so I guess I didn't care too much about the Nash any more. Anybody who wanted to borrow it could have it.

One evening in late summer, I gave the keys to a friend who wanted to run across the state line for a brew. The next morning I saw him at breakfast and he told me, unhappily, that the car was sitting at the bottom of the hill.

It May Be a Woman's World, But Space Is Man's Domain

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Recently space officials announced that any flight to the planet Mars would take two years and might possibly include women.

"I can see women going to the moon," one cynic reacted. "That's only a couple of weeks. But two years of it — with some dame looking over your shoulder, telling you to watch out for the meteorites — never!"

So far, outer space has been for men only. There has never been an American woman astronaut. Females have applied for positions in each of the six astronaut selections, but none have even come close.

One turn-down wrote a letter to a space authority in 1966, saying: "I don't like being a sore loser, but in this case I never had a chance. I believe I was turned down because of my sex. I can't prove it, but I think it's so."

Space officials differ. They say astronaut selection, like any government-sponsored undertaking, is color blind, sexless and nondiscriminatory.

Says one authority, Col. John Prodan:

"It has always been a question of choosing the best-qualified individuals. Nothing more than that. And in this situation, women had to have at least a thousand hours of jet flying time in their record — no woman has ever had this much time. And, in the case of scientist-astronauts, the women applicants have simply not measured up to the standards of those men chosen."

Colonel Prodan, who is with the National Aeronautic Space Administration's Flight Crew Division, adds, however, that female astronauts are possible:

"The Russians have al-

Jacqueline Cochran
"Women can take anything men can."

ready had one up there. The only thing that stops them now in our program is their background. We don't have any women test pilots, for instance. We don't have any women fighter pilots in the military. But if one comes along who has acquired the proper background and qualifies otherwise, she could conceivably make it."

Many people connected with NASA agree. Especially women. And most especially NASA consultant Jacqueline Cochran.

Jackie Cochran is perhaps the most famous woman flier since Amelia Earhart. During the Second World War, she directed the more than 11,000 women who flew (mostly ferry ships) for the U.S. military. And she still holds more than 100 air records.

Her view of women astronauts:

"Piloting a space ship is no big barrier. There isn't one of us (experienced women pilots) who couldn't handle space craft. And, physically, there's no problem either. Women can take anything men can."

In the early days of America's space exploration, Miss Cochran (her married name is Mrs. Floyd Odium) contributed $20,000 of her own money to finance a clinical study of just how females might fare in outer space. Twelve women were tested, along with 12 men. The differences were negligible.

"We so testified before congressional hearings in 1962," Miss Cochran says. "They were conducting inquiries into a number of space aspects, and we testified our opinion that, physically, women would make fine astronauts."

With "if" all, however, Jackie Cochran says she has never recommended that NASA hire women for space. In fact, to the contrary:

"Look, from a very practical standpoint, our space program is still in too early a stage to take on women astronauts. The whole thing boils down to dollars and expediency. Say you do have a woman in the program, spend all the money to train her, and then she gets pregnant. What then?"

Yet, Miss Cochran admits, women astronauts can't be counted out. They may not become space pilots in the near future but it's probable they will serve in other capacities.

NASA's Colonel Prodan puts it this way:

"My guess is that the first women in space will be scientists. Some day we'll have manned laboratories orbiting the earth and sitting on the moon — and then we'll need women. I suppose it may be kind of like this television program, Star Trek. Men will be aboard to face the physical and mental rigors. And women will be along to take care of details."

THINGS GO SMOOTHLY IF YOU USE A LEVEL

By MR. FIX

Though it seldom makes the list of basic tools, the level is an important item to have around the house. Even though you don't plan to tackle any major carpentry, you will find that it is one of the most useful tools you own.

Your familiarity with a level is the small one set in the short leg of a try-square. This one will do for checking the level on small work, but across a long expanse it isn't much use.

What you need is one about two feet long that will take both vertical and horizontal readings on separate dials. The kind made of wood is fine around the house and shop. But if you have to use a level outdoors frequently, get one of metal (generally aluminum or magnesium), since these are unaffected by moisture.

When will you ever need a level?

Things are spilling in the refrigerator, or the motor is making a chugging noise. It looks O.K., but check it and you will find that level is what it isn't. Most refrigerators have adjusting screws or you can wedge it on the low side.

The point is that your eye is no judge. Few floors and ceilings are absolutely horizontal and few walls are perfectly vertical. Most of this is hidden with decoration and makes little real difference.

But let's say you are putting up a shelf. Simple enough, you figure. Just set

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Revolutions are commonplace. In parts of Asia there is one that promises well for the United States.

This is the "green revolution" and it promises to bring relief to the American foreign aid pocketbook. In Manila, Thailand, Indonesia, Burma and India more and more food is being raised locally. Famine no longer is greatly feared.

In 1965 and 1966, the United States responded to the famine in India by shipping the equivalent of one-fifth our wheat harvest, the largest shipment on record. This response staved off famine both brackets the same distance up the wall from the floor (or measure from the ceiling if that is easier) and you figure they are bound to be right. But they won't be because the floor or ceiling will not be perfectly level and neither will your shelf.

Shelves, wall cabinets, floor cabinets, even wallpaper with a vertical strip will all end up wrong unless you discover the sloping walls and floors before you finish the project.

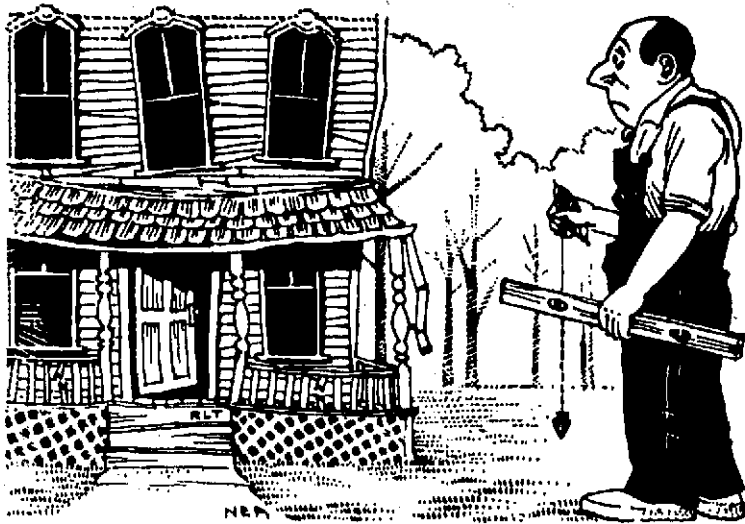

The refrigerator is not the only appliance that may need leveling. If your wife's cakes all come out of uneven thickness, put a level across the oven and then slip a couple of wedges under it until you get it where it belongs.

Washing machines will run better if made level. Any motor-driven appliance will suffer from being out of level, since the motor will have to work harder.

If doors don't open and close properly, check the level of the frame. Shrinkage and expansion may have pulled it out of level. But before you do any sanding or planing, see if a piece of cardboard under a hinge may not solve the problem.

If you are doing a little brick work outside or putting up a fence, you will have to get acquainted with a line level. This device is a small level that hangs on a taut string. Line up your work with it, once you know you have it straight and level.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

for millions.

Last year food production improved vastly. Pakistan's wheat crop was 30 per cent higher than previously. India's total food grains were up 12 per cent from previous levels. The Philippines are now self-sufficient in rice for the first time since 1903. Ceylon produced 13 per cent more rice than before and Iran actually was able to export some wheat. All of which should mean less call for U.S. financial help.

"The enormous progress proves that gifts of food are not enough. To lift people out of near-famine status you must show them how to develop their own raw materials into edible food. That takes water, fertilizers, pesticides and agricultural know-how," reports Paul B. Pearson, president and scientific director of the Nutrition Foundation and a recent visitor as nutritional observer to India.

"The United States has spent a lot of public and private money fostering this green revolution in Asia, and also in Latin America," he said. "Our AID program has invested in irrigation projects, farm-to-market roads, financed fertilizer imports. With the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and Land Grant universities, it has trained thousands of agriculturists now capable of using the new techniques in their native lands."

But the largest factor is the use of the new high-yielding cereal grains. The Rockefeller Foundation worked for 20 years developing Mexican wheat, now adapted to most underdeveloped countries. Together with the Ford Foundation, it developed new rice varieties for the tropics and semitropics. Other high-yield varieties of corn, sorghum and millet have been developed.

The 27-year old, nonprofit Nutrition Foundation's purpose is to advance the science of nutrition for mankind. It is supported by the major food, allied companies and institutions and makes research grants to projects not supported by federal agencies.

"All these investments in the green revolution bring more and more native people into the economy. Not enough yet, of course. But it does prove that money should be invested in building first an agricultural economy before trying to industrialize a nation's economy," Dr. Pearson reasons.
